JUDGE MORROW IS COFFEE SPEAKER

Former Palm Beach County Senator Morrow said that if the 67-senator bill passes, instead of 15 percent of the Florida population now electing the Florida Senate majority Senate majority, only 10 percent could do the trick. He pointed out that under that bill, such counties as Liberty, ranked 67th with a population of 2,500, would have just as much voice in running the state as vastly populated Dade county, with one Senator.

CURRENTLY

An able reporter, Bill Gold, of Washington (D. C.) Post and Times-Herald, recently wrote an article expressing his disgust as a traveler at the inferior Florida road system. That's nothing — he should live in the Glades, where a whole County Commissioner's campaign can be built with one road. Typical quality, of course.

— JR —

It is not that we're unsympathetic with the horror and fright of the Miamians whose house was laid low when the Marine jet crashed Monday. It is just that we couldn't feel any safer living under a planeless sky, in peace and quiet — until that one final devastating moment when we realize that the new noise is the falling bomb of an enemy power.

— JR —

More than one of the politicians visiting us in the behalf of their candidacies in the forthcoming Democratic primary have noted pessimistically the creeping Republicanism afflicting Palm Beach County. As we recall, the nasty old two-party system goes back to 1796, when John Adams, a Federalist, beat Thomas Jefferson, a Democratic Republican (there), and launched the U. S. on a system which has by and large worked well ever since.

BY WIN PENDLETON

WANT TO BUY A DONKEY? See Congressman Dante Fascell. Not a real donkey—but a donkey to wear. Latest fad among the Democrat males on the "House side" is the wearing of matching cuff links and the clasp—decorated with the symbol of the Democratic party, Fascell doesn't really sell them, but if you had visited his office during the past week or so, you would have seen the desk of his assistant, John Buckley, piled high with them.

Ask how much they were selling for, and John would tell you they weren't for sale—that they were being given away. But when you hinted for a set (red and black), you found that they were being given away for a donation of $3. The donation going to a Capital Hill non-partisan organization — the Burros Club. Nearly 300 sets have been "given" away up to now by Buckley.

NEW ASSIGNMENT: Important to Florida is Sen. Spessard Holland's new committee assignment. He has been placed on the Committee on Appropriations. This new assignment came as a result of the death of Senator Kilgore of West Virginia. When a reshuffling took place all through the Senate. The new post is particularly appropriate for Holland because of the extensive flood control and waterways projects either in progress or being planned for Florida.

STILL PLUGGING — They are still trying to get the land for the proposed Institute of Human Engineering near a Brooksville. Paul A. Strachan, president of the American Federation of the Physically Handicapped, wants Uncle Sam to sell 10,000 acres of the Withlacoochee Land Utilization Project to his outfit for that purpose.

He proposes to set up a place where a handicapped person may be treated wholly — medically, surgically, therapeutical-

The bosses had some people in the other night for a smooch dinner.

At least, I thought that's what they said — and I feared that cannibalism had reached our happy little home.

A smooch, so far as I remember without my handy little Broadway glossary around, is a kind of combination of people — a schmo and a jerk.

So be it.

But I just didn't see the bosses chomping slices of people — even smooches.

However, it turns out I was wrong.

What they really had was a smooch dinner.

Not s - c - h - n - o - o - k but s - n - o - o - k.

Figuring maybe they weren't calling a spade a spade, I checked my old people-eared Webster's and sure enough, s-n-o-o-k is a word.

However, I just couldn't see how anybody could cook a "to" out, to follow by the scent."

I lurked between Webster's and self-righteousness, to see just how this was to be done.

Idly, I clawed open another dictionary, and another — and there wasn't any "snook" listed that was something a dog or even a person could eat.

Frantic with worry, lest the bosses try to cook something that wasn't there — deep-fried words, or phrases rolled in cracker crumbs, I rushed around for something that would flat out say that "snook" is a tangible edible.

At the last possible moment before the guests arrived, I found a Stuart Fishing Guide. And sure enough, there was "snook" — with a picture, yet.

It didn't say what Webster said — about following by the scent. It said that the snook was a "fighting tropical fish" — "a good food fish" — should be skinned."

By the time I got out of the fishing book and back into the Webster corner, the guests had arrived, and there was a delicious meal of fish cooking. May be that's what the Webster definition meant, because I certainly "searched out" and "followed by the scent" the lovely snook.

A fate worse than diet was upon me, though.

After all that work to save the bosses' reputations, I discovered that there was just snook enough for four.

Not enough for dog lovers. I really think it's snook-eaters who are smooches.

New Todd Book On Lord's Prayer

BY SUE ROZELLE

"Our Lord's Prayer," the latest book by our local writer, C. M. Todd, has just been released.

In his masterful style of using direct Bible quotes to illustrate his points, he shows the loving care of the Heavenly Father, down through the ages, in providing always for his "children" even to sending a Redeemer.

The first part of the book gives the story, in plain but picturesque form, of Adam and Eve in the Garden of Paradise; and traces the promises of the birth of Christ through the Old Testament and on to the actual fulfillment. This is beautifully told and not unlike Ousler's "The Greatest Book Ever Written" although more reverently expressed. This portion of the book could well be used for Bible stories with children.

The last half is more adult fare, and deals with "The Masterpiece" or "Lord's Prayer," and the Ten Commandments. Many of the pitfalls that modern Christians get into are discussed. You who love the Bible will find real thought-provoking pleasure in this volume.

Note: This little rebound book can be purchased at Bolton's Canal Point Pharmacy and Glades Drug Store in Belle Glade.

Foundation of the cattle herd is established — breeds, Florida Grower and Rancher says in its April number, in an article prepared for the magazine by R. W. Kidder and D. W. Beardslev of the Everglades Experiment Station.

The article explains that producers of commercial beef cannot afford to raise inferior beef calves. The authors are pointing out the program by which beef may be grown in the Glades region especially for South Florida consumption.

Basis of desirable characteristics of beef animals is "doing ability" which includes the effect of climate, pasture and feeding programs, and possibly some other factors.

The booklet contains complete rules and instructions with numerous questions and answers to show how rules work, and was prepared because of the many inquiries which the Internal Revenue Service has received during the current filing period, Tomlinson said.

Allan Skaggs, jr., head of the university's news bureau, spoke of the campus as not being located only in Gainesville, but as extending statewide through its teacher research programs, and its 18 extension stations such as the one at Belle Glade.

Robert C. Beatty, dean of men at the university, spoke of the emphasis placed on student self-government. gently needed in addition to a truck, 1,000 feet of two and a half inch fire hose, aluminum hose crossings to protect line in use across traffic-laden thoroughfares; five smoke masks, a first aid kit, and firemen's coats and hats.

Finance and Fire Commissioner Armstrong was instructed to order the equipment, and to set up with the chief of department with himself as full-time head, R. D. Sappington as his replacement and assistant chief, and for a relief man.

At the present time, employed eight hours six days a week at the water plant, and on fire call the other 16 hours each day, Lewis is working a 144 hr. week for a salary of less than $80, Council figured.

Wilkinson said that with Chief Levins established full-time in the fire department, he would then have the time to carry out a program of training for volunteer firemen as well as local fire inspection duties. "Every fire hydrant out of the downtown area is covered with grass and weeds, and I doubt if they could be located if needed," Wilkinson said in citing the need for a fire protection program. Council instructed Hunnicutt & Associates to use a 75 percent valuation of local property in making the new appraisals, in line with the percentage in most other cities.

City Attorney Ralph Johnson explained that Pahokee now uses a 60 percent valuation which keeps many persons off the tax rolls through the $5,000 homestead exemption. If the appraisers use 75 percent, he pointed out, more property will be subject to taxation and taxation would spread more equitably among freeholders. "In the long run, the higher valuation may result in a millage drop because of the broadened tax coverage," Johnson said.

Wilkinson said he was for the 75 percent and Mrs. Armstrong said "fair enough," and the higher valuation was approved on Wilkinson's motion.

Council President Meredith said that in talking with nine businessmen to try to find a candidate to succeed himself in the May 8 election, he found that any one would be more inclined to run for Council if there was some way Council members' pay were higher to offset the business losses invariably sustained.

City Clerk Dorothy Graham was asked to check with the Florida League of Municipalities for Council salaries in cities of the same population group as Pahokee. The discussion was tabled pending arrival of the figures. Present Pahokee Council pay is $5 per member per meeting, whether regularly scheduled, called, or adjourned session.

Absent from the session were Councilmen R. B. Simonson and George H. Tucker, Jr. Among other actions, Council Hired Leland Keen as swimming pool manager for the coming summer and agreed to make various pool improvements suggested by Keen, and set tomorrow as opening day for the pool.

ACKNOWLEDGED letters from Pahokee Housing Authority for certain water line and street extensions to be installed when work begins on the upcoming federal low-rent housing units.

ASKED Mayor Lewis Friend and City Attorney Johnson to prepare an advertisement for a dockmaster for Pahokee Harbor, including a request for proposals on a percentage basis for concessions, dockage, boats, fuel and pier fees.

PLANNED, with Glades FPL Manager Curtis Chase, to put 19 new heavy wattage street lights on E. Main St. and Lake Ave. in the downtown area.

The scientific unity of God and man, as taught by Christ Jesus, will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Doctrine of Atonement" is the Golden Text from John (3:17): "God sent His Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through Him might be saved."

The following passage will be among those read from "Science and Health, with Keys to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Atonement is the expiation of man's unity with God, whereby man reflects divine Truth, Life, and Love. Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe Him endless homage" (18:1-5).

Readings from the Bible will include the following (Luke 1:68): "Blessed be the Lord God of Israel; for he hath visited and redeemed his people."

Florida farmers are switching more and more to electricity to speed work, improve efficiency, increase profits. For instance, many dairy farmers are now installing lights in the floors of milking stalls to provide better illumination during milking. Electricity lightens the work of the farmer's wife, too. For example, heating water electrically is cleaner, safer, and more economical in an all-electric kitchen-laundry... on the farm or in town!

Member Wayne Unwin said the chapters' 16 registered cattle are one of the finest purebred Hereford herds owned by any FFA chapter in the state. In addition, the chapter owns six dairy nurse cows, three steers, and one goat.

During the past year the club has been active in improving 40 acres of pasture land it owns in the Pelican Lake area. It now has a total of 45 acres of grazing land and 13 acres of crops land. MINIMUM —

Previously, it had denied Hopkins' application in several stormy sessions, which action prohibited a re-application for a liquor permit at the same location with a "new" petition within six months of denial. Commissioner Eugene Ellis moved that the Hopkins petition be returned, with the city keeping photostatic copies of it for its files. The motion was accepted. Commissioner J. H. Livingston, Jr., and Mayor Walter Ashley joining Ellis on a split vote.

the "Avis" side, Commissioner says Marvin Unwin and Z. T. Ingram voting "no".

Unwin sought unsuccessfully to insert a provision in the Ellis motion that Hopkins be restrained from using his original petition as an instrument of application at future commission hearings.

While the law prohibits filing of any new petitions by Hopkins, it is a moot question as to whether Hopkins can re-file his turned-down original petition within the six months period, Attorney Jones advised.

Commission again heard the plea from L. H. Samuels, developer of the Irene Park subdivision, that the city replace the three-quarter inch mains in his project with two-inch mains. He came under scathing criticism from Mayor Ashley for having built his development with full knowledge of inadequacy of the three-quarter-inch line to pet-havior in development. Samuels countered with the claim that he complied with the claim that he complied when he started his development.

Guest speaker at the banquet was Claude S. Jones, Belle Glade attorney who is past president of Pahokee chapter and now is the state FFA. He spoke on "Follow-ship." Feature of the banquet menu was fried chicken, which birds having been raised from baby chicks by the FFA.

mission voted to hold a special meeting next week to settle — once and for all — what the City of Belle Glade will do with regard to water department money to lay water mains to aid development of new residential areas such as Samuels project and the Lyons Park subdivision.

No action was taken to allocate $10,000 for a private firm, Hummick & Associates, to set up and maintain for seven years a system of constant re-evaluation of all taxable property in Belle Glade. Warren P. Hummick explained details of his company's system to equalize taxation, saying the city would profit from having uniform in-profits for all property valuations. Among other matters, Commission: ACKNOWLEDGED receipt of a letter of thanks from Mayor Lewis Friend of Pahokee, for help of the Belle Glade fire department in fighting Pahokee's major fire a fortnight ago.

HEARD letter from Cong. Paul Rogers re proposed bill which would aid cities such as Belle Glade to solve water pollution problems to the tune of $500,000, with no strings attached.

DEFERRED to the Junior Chamber of Commerce the case of Miss Dorothy Irvin, young Belle Glade aviatrix, that city spend $800 to sponsor an airplane in the Canada-to-Havana women's "Powder Puff Derby" to be held soon. Miss Irvin would be co-pilot of the plane; VOTED to accept fees for meetings of the zoning board, and for subsequent required advertising.

AUTHORIZED the city manager to use his own discretion in accepting any of the four bids to provide the water department with a year's supply of materials. Bids on some of 18 different items ranged below and above $14,000.

DEFERRED request of the golf committee that $10 be allocated monthly for purchase of bottled water for golf club, which is beyond reach of city manager. Commission felt that the City of Belle Glade water, transported in one way or another to the golf club, free of charge, was good enough for golfers.

OKAYED request from golf committee that temporary golf pro be hired to replace Pro Joe Ziemann.
